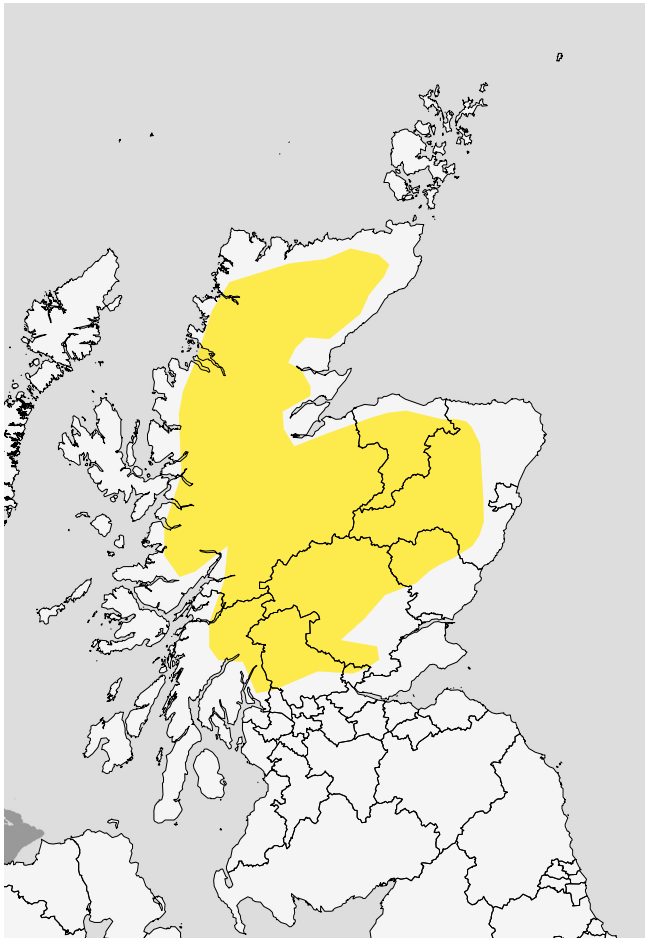
Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between
05:00 Mon 13 Mar 2023 and
11:00 Tue 14 Mar 2023



Rain will turn to snow bringing the chance of some disruption to transport and infrastructure. Icy surfaces are likely later.

What to expect

- Some roads and railways likely to be affected with longer journey times by road, bus and train services
- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths

Further details

A band of rain will gradually turn to snow from the north during Monday morning, initially above 200 m, but later, to low-levels. 2-4 cm are possible above 200 m and 5-10 cm above 300 m. A few cms may develop locally at lower levels into the evening.

Rain and snow should clear to the south of the area Monday evening, and with skies clearing, icy stretches will be possible on untreated surfaces. Occasional snow showers will follow into the north and west of Scotland during Monday evening and night giving a few cm of snow in places.

Medium likelihood of low impacts
